

A photograph of a Clark's Nutcracker perched on a light-colored, textured branch. The bird is shown in profile, facing left. It has a long, dark, pointed beak and a greyish-brown body with a white rump and tail. The background is a blurred green, suggesting a forest setting.

Clark's Nutcracker

Copyright © 2018 by John B. Ennis